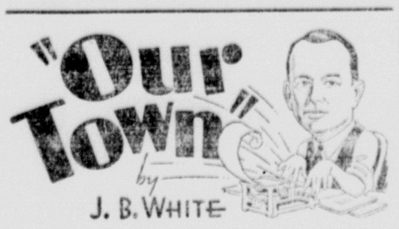
Negro Held Here On Robbery Charge



The present City Council through long months of faithful response to public opinion in Cameron has consistently sought a solution of the proposed purchase of the utilities of the Community Public Service Company. Now that it has been definitely established that the properties are not for sale, it appears that nothing further can be done with assurance of success.

The City Government is not to be criticized in any way for its efforts. The government of Mayor Smith is entitled to much praise from the people for the manner in which it has conducted the affairs of the city. No doubt it is a source of pride to every citizen that the government has maintained a high standard of efficiency and economy, so much so that its credit is as good if not better than any city in the United States. Not only is this true but in all departments the city has maintained these fine standards of service to the people.

It does not appear at all certain that the city could succeed with litigation over the water problem. Due to this uncertainty and the probable large outlay in attorneys' fees and court costs, if the city should lose the suit, many citizens feel that the Council should not proceed against the water company. The members of the City Council have been most considerate of public opinion and it is safe to say that they are interested in whatever reaction may be had to this suggestion. If as a taxpayer you feel that such a course would be unwise it is your duty to give your aldermen and your mayor the benefit of your opinion. In this way you would not be in any way attempting to direct the course of the Council but simply experessing your views on so grave a step as might be undertaken if the city should elect to attempt enforcement of sale of the property involved.

Due to the unusually good financial condition of our city it might be unwise to jeopardize current and future funds by entering the courts where the cost would be very high, if the city could not win its suit. There is many valid objections to this method of settling the question. The matter is simply one in which the company refuses to sell its property and having done so the matter apparently is settled. The City Council has done all that it possibly can do and if it should decide not to proceed with litigation, it no doubt would earn the praise of all the people, because there is much danger in proceeding in court with a matter so difficult of solution. The City Council, if it so elects, can now turn its activities to other needed public duties. The city needs now or will need in the near future additional school facilities and other things which should claim whatever revenue the city has available for the public good.

This is said in a spirit of good will and with due appreciation for the consistent long and gallant fight the Council has made to put into realization the will of the people as expressed in the bond elections. It is now apparent that the whole matter could be ended with safety to all concerned.

Lee Taplin, negro, was arrested in Cameron Monday by City Marshal, Gene Smith and has been charged with burglary in connection with the robbery of the Roberts 5c to $1 Store here on Sunday night.

The negro was placed in custody of highway patrolmen and taken to Austin and finger printed. His identity was established, according to Mr. Smith, when finger prints found on the glass of a transom at the front of the store checked with prints made at Austin. The negro has not confessed maintaining that he formerly worked at the store and that his finger prints could have been placed on the glass during his employment.

Fire was discovered in the store and when night watchman, Joe Richter entered the store he discovered the robbery. A fire alarm sounded brought out the department and only a small damage was reported at the store. A charge of arson may grow out of the arrest of the negro, in addition to the burglary charge. Quick work on the part of Gene Smith who

PIONEER CENTRAL TEXAS IS BURIED

G. W. Glass, 91, pioneer of Central Texas and grand father of Lester Glass of Cameron, died at his home in Jarrell in Bell county at 5 p. m. Sunday, February 19. Mr. Glass was a native of Tennessee and was born in 1847, moving to Texas as a young man and settling at Pendleton where he engaged in farming. In 1910 he moved to Jarrell and there established the Glass Hotel.

He is survived by two sons, E. M. Glass of Belton and W. E. Glass of Dallas; two daughters, Mrs. Addie Hickman of Robstown and Mrs. Nora Knought of Jarrell. The only great grandchild in the entire family is Donald Glass of Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Glass. Fourteen grand children also survive. His wife preceded him in death in 1937.

Funeral services were held from the home in Jarrell on Monday afternoon.

Letters Take Form Of Will Disposing Of Estate Here

A will disposing of property valued at approximately $2,000, represented by two letters written before her death to nieces, closed the estate of Mrs. Kate Arnold of Rockdale here Monday.

The will was admitted to probate by Judge Jeff T. Kemp who said that it was unusual because it was made by two letters each detailing the property to be given each niece. The letters were withnessed by Mrs. A. B. Lightfoot and John T. Hale, cashier of the Rockdale State Bank. Wills are usually written by lawyers and take legal form but the property of Mrs. Arnold was disposed of by letters written to her relatives.

Hoary Verse About Treatment of Aged Turns Respectable

Trenton, N. J.—A piece of verse long ago printed in radical papers showed up during the fight to save the dismissal of WPA employes over 65. A resident of Avon-by-the-sea, New Jersey, sent it to the governor, signed "Bard of Avon." It reads:

In savage tribes, where skulls are thick,
And primal passions rage,
They have a system sure and quick,
To cure the blight of age.

For when a native's youth has fled.
And years have sapped his vim,
They simply knock him in the head
And put an end to him.

But we, in this enlightened age,
Are built of nobler stuff,
And so we look with righteous rage
On deeds so harsh and rough.

For when a man grows old and gray
And weak and short of breath,
We simply take his job away
And let him starve to death.

Mr. McLean and M. G. Cox attended the banquet held in the Adolphus Hotel at which time former Governor Neff delivered the principal address.

Mr. McLean was presented the statue just before Mr. Neff spoke. The Grand Chancellor said Mr. McLean had rendered an outstanding service to the Knights of Pythias Lodge during 1938. Mr. McLean was instrumental in bringing 42 new members into the lodge during 1938

Members of the local lodge are congratulating Mr. McLean on this recognition which came from the Grand Lodge for his services to Pythianism in 1938.

Negro Woman Wins Suit for Insurance On Instructed Verdict In District Court

Insurance in the sum of $2,368.80 with the Hardware Mutual Casualty Company liable, was instructed to be paid to Penola Woods, widow of James Woods, negro who died from injuries received when a gas tank at the Sapp Motor Company exploded in 1938.

The case was settled on Tuesday on an instructed verdict from the court and is interesting from several standpoints. Ina Woods whom James Woods married, brought suit for the insurance. Before his death Penola Woods, first wife of James Woods sued for a divorce and thinking it had been granted, married again. After her marriage James Woods also married again. The first wife consulted a lawyer and was under the impression she had obtained a divorce because she had paid the lawyer a fee. In the testimony brought out in the trial, it was found that Woods and his first wife were never legally separated. They had two children.

The court on Tuesday instructed the jury to render a verdict in favor of Penola Woods and the two children by James Woods' first marriage,

Gun Taken From Negro In Court Room Tuesday

Harvie Williams, negro, was placed under arrest in district court here Monday by Sheriff R. M. Kennedy who discovered the negro was wearing a pistol.

Sheriff Kennedy said the gun was identified as the property of Ralph Chambers and had been stolen from the Chambers automobile on Sunday in Cameron.

Mr. Chambers is the brother in law of district judge, Graham Gillis and the son of the late Wallace W. Chambers.

The negro offered no resistance when Sheriff Kennedy placed him under arrest after taking the gun away.

R. L. Batte Tells Turner His Views On Truck Law

Mr. Reese Turner,
State Legislature,
Austin, Texas.
Dear Sir:

I fear that this letter may be too late in reaching you, but that I as a representative citizen should give my views of the truck law.

I am in favor of raising the truck load limit to not less than 11,000 pounds or more than 12,000 pounds for the following reasons:

First, a higher load limit would destroy our highways and especially the small bridges and cost the tax payers millions of dollars.

Second, a heavy load limit would destroy the small truck man, of which there are thousands and would

JOHN HOBSON BURIED HERE; WAS A NATIVE

John Hobson of Buckholts died on the 17th day of February 1939 and was buried in Oak Hill cemetery, Cameron on the 18th day of February 1939. He was born June 11, 1846 at Port Sullivan. Port Sullivan was at that time one of the leading towns of the county and was the head of navigation on the Brazos. Supplies for the outlying communities and farms were secured from stores in Port Sullivan and these stores were in turn supplied with goods brought by boat from towns and cities further down the Brazos.

Mr. Hobson's father, who was also named John Hobson was a veteran of the Texas Revolution and fought in the battle of San Jacinto. As a reward for his service in the Texas Revolution he was given a league of land which he located just east of Cameron in the Marlow community known as the Hobson original survey. Some of the descendants of the original John Hobson still live on some of this land and the house in which the original John Hobson lived still stands in an excellent state of preservation. It is at present occupied by the Ben Baker family.

With The CAMERON
ROTARIANS

The cotton problem of the South in general, and the State of Texas particularly was most ably discussed by ex-Congressman O. H. Cross at our last meeting. In one of two instances, the writer could have taken issue with the speaker's statements because of a difference of opinion. For instance, the speaker stated that Texas cotton was being discriminated against in the world market on account of short staple caused by the use of eroded and worn out land for cotton growing. This statement about short staple is true as far as it goes—but you cant raise a race horse from a plow pony no more than you can raise good cotton from inferior planting seed. And therein lies the main reason for Texas large percent of untenderable cotton.

No one more heartily agrees with Congressman Cross when he says that we MUST conserve our soil by terracing, by planting legumes and turning them under, and in other ways, than does the writer. This is a program that is MOST ESSENTIAL to us as a state and as a nation. We all enjoyed the speech and the speaker very much.

PROGRAM FOR WEDNESDAY

Piano selection by—Loretta Wilson and Jeanette Copley —Reading by Gus Edward McLean, Jr.

But wasn't it a shame that so few of us were present for such an informative program. THERE WERE AS MANY MEMBERS ABSENT AS THERE WAS PRESENT. TEN ABSENT; TEN PRESENT. A fifty percent meeting and a new low established. A blot on our record that should be wiped out by a 100% meeting for every absentee!

DO YOU JUST BELONG?

Are you an active member? The kind that would be missed?
Or are you just contented that your name is on the list?
Do you attend the meetings and mingle with the crowd,
Or do you stay at home and crab—both long and loud?
Do you take an active part to help the club along,
Or are you satisfied to be the kind that "just belongs?"
There's quite a program scheduled that means success, if done,
And it can be accomplished with the help of every one.
So ATTEND THE MEETINGS REGULARLY and help with hand and heart,
Don't be just a member, but TAKE AN ACTIVE PART.

We are awaiting with interest a report from our president and Stanley on their extensive trip. The club has missed both of you and are mighty glad you are back with us.

In the absence of both president and vice president, our good member, John Copley presided at our previous meeting. Nice going, friend John. We still haven't had that meeting put on by the chairman of the various comittees that would enlighten us about the duties of the committee. (And might at the same time enlighten the chairman and committee members.) This reminder is given the program committee without charge. And couldn't our committee on International affairs bring us a program that would explain the whys and wherefores of the Spanish situation?

In the absence of our president, a resolution was passed that requires all members to either notify the secretary by 10 a. m. of the meeting day when he is unable to be present, or be liable to the club for the price of his lunch as a fine. This is to notify the president and any other absentee of the action. By doing this, we will avoid putting any unnecessary burden on the owners of the banquet hall and should also increase our attendance.

Hobson

nessed in 1852 the landing of the steam boat at McCown's Ferry during a great overflow on Little River. Mr. Hobson was a soldier in the confederate army and participated in the last battle fought in the civil war, which was the battle of Palmeto Ranch near Brownsville, Texas. After the civil war Mr. Hobson was married to a Miss Mays of Maysfield and to this union six children were born. Four of them survive, Perry Hobson, a son of Killeen and three daughters, Mrs. Ed Phillips and Mrs. Elimar Horstmann, both of Buckholts and Mrs. Lee Reeder of San Antonio. A number of grand children also survive him. If he had lived until June 11, of this year he would have been 93 years old.

At the time of his death he was the oldest native born citizen of Milam county and had seen Milam county emerge from the wilderness to become a well cultivated and populous county of 40,000 people.

His father, the original John Hobson was one of the commissioners appointed to select a county seat for Milam county and this commission on which was also Benjamin Bryant of Bryant Station, selecting Cameron, which was founded in 1846 the year of John Hobson's birth, as county seat of Milam county.

The funeral services were held at the Buckholts Methodist Church with Rev. T. D. McCrary, pastor officiating. Judge W. G. Gillis of Cameron delivered an address in tribute to the memory of deceased. The American Legion took charge at the cemetery and final interment was in accordance with the American Legion ritual and Rev. McCrary delivered the benediction. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery at Cameron.

Negro

said Monday morning that the robber knew a great deal about the store, resulted in the early arrest of the negro. The money, eighty dollars in currency and silver was taken from a secret compartment of the cash drawer and Marshal Smith believes the negro knew of the existence of this secret compartment. Finger prints clinched the case against the negro.

Shortly after the robbery was discovered in the Robert's store the bar and cafe of Marshall Chambers was also found to have been robbed. Entrance to the Chambers Cafe was effected with the use of ice tongs. The lock was torn from the door and finger prints were found on the ice tongs. These prints are now in possession of the Bureau of Identification of the Department of Public Safety at Austin. Whether Taplin instigated both robberies has not been ascertained. Mr. Smith is of the opinion that the Chambers Cafe was robbed by another. Quick work on the part of the marshal resulted in the arrest of the negro and his subsequent identity through the finger print system at Austin.

Some fifteen dollars in money was taken from the Chambers Cafe. Mr. Smith said that none of the money had been recovered.

The negro according to the marshal, was linked with the robbery of the Parma Grocery in Cameron several years ago. The negro denies having robbed the store and has made no statement. He was brought back to Cameron and placed in the Milam county jail by Mr. Smith.

Batte

give the big trucking companies the great advantage, for which they have fought from the beginning.

In the face of the present law they are hauling in some cases twenty to thirty thousand pounds, while the smaller trucker is afraid to load much beyond his load limit, as his load is not concealed in heavy and closed vans and is open to every one's inspection.

It would increase the number of big trucks owned by the large companies and increase the hazard to automobile drivers, who now have to drive out on the wrong side of the road to look around a big covered van, which takes up nearly half of the road, in order to see whether the road is clear ahead so he can pass.

I feel qualified to make these suggestions for these reasons: My business is of such proportion that it takes me over a considerable portion of middle Texas. I drive on an average of 1250 miles per week, and have had the same driver for 8 years, who has never had an accident.

I am an Oil Mill man, own two Oil Mills and we haul more than 15,000 tons of cotton seed into our mills each year. My cake and oil is transported by rail and my linters is usually sold and delivered at shipside in Houston by truck, so you see that it all comes in by truck and the greater part goes out by rail.

I am a farmer. In the past I have raised from 2500 to 3000 bales of cotton a year, but since the Government has taken charge I raise about 1500 bales, of which the greater part is sold in Houston and transferred by truck and rail. I farm about 8500 acres of land.

I am a cattle feeder, feeding the products of my own farms and mills. I feed from 2000 to 3500 head of cattle per year, averaging about 2,400,000 pounds of beef, of which about 75% is sold on Texas markets and hauled mostly by truck, and the balance to Kansas City and Northern markets and transported by rail. I also buy the greater part of the cattle that goes into my feed lots at Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston markets and considerable portion in the Counties within a hundred miles of Cameron, almost all of which is brought in by trucks. I have my own truck lines and they are not for hire and do not haul for the public, though I also employ considerable outside truck work.

We need the small truck man. Were he crushed out, we would be at the mercy of the big truck lines and the country would not be able to secure the service we now have. We certainly need the railroads and I feel that a 20,000 pound load law would clearly be a heavy injustice to them, though I am not fighting their battles.

I would like to see a law assessing a graduated fine for excess load limits. Say a 2000 pound excess load with a fine of $25.00, 5000 pounds $100.00 and 10,000 pounds $250.00 or some such graduated fines.

When you destroy the highways and destroy the railraods, you are adding heavy taxes to an already overburdened people.

Yours truly,
R. L. BATTE.

Commercial Row

Cameron's most ambitious young men, who is in charge of the store reports a nice business on the opening day and in this issue of the Herald will be found a large ad featuring special values in ladies, men's and children's fashionable footwear. The interior of the building has been newly refinished in light buff and a number of the ultra modern chromium chairs are conveniently placed for the comfort of customers. A mechanical window display featuring shoes on a moving pedestal attracts passers by and in the near future a Neon sign will be placed out front.

It is baby chick time! Poultry raisers know the advantage of giving their baby chicks clean, pure water and feed. In order to do this they must have a supply of feeders and fountains especially designed for the use of baby chicks. Roberts 5c to $1 Store here, recently purchased by Narvie Caperton, handles a complete stock of sanitary feeders and water fountains at an economical price to the poultry raiser.

An interesting development this week along Commercial Row was the announcement of F. G. Blake of the Coca Cola Bottling Company of distribution of 50 coupons each week to Cameron homes. These coupons are good for one carton of six bottles of Coca Cola and are to be rendeemed at Cameron stores. Representatives of the Coca Cola Bottling Company will call at homes in Cameron and wherever they find Coca Cola in the refrigerator, one coupon will be given These coupons are not good after April 1, 1939.

Cameron's pioneer food store and giver of values—B. F. Stewart comes to the rescue of the American pocketbook this week in a store wide sale on better foods. Mr. Stewart is enjoying a large volume of business due to the large stocks which he finds are necessary to accomodate his trade. Of importance is the large display advertisement in today's Herald which should be read by every food buyer in this territory.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 26.

The Golden Text is: "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; . . . And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him" (Colossians 3:16, 17.)

Among the citiations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me" (John 12:44.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Ccience and Health with Key to the Scripture" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reapparaing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God" (page 271.)

Miss MacDonald And Eddy Coming in "Sweethearts"

The outstanding musical treat of the new movie season comes to the Cameron Theatre Sunday with the fifth co-starring appearance of Jeannette MacDanald and Nelson Eddy in "Sweethearts," filmization of the noted Victor Herbert operetta and marking the first appearance of the popular singing team in a Technicolor production.

The new picture also marks a departure upon the part of Miss MacDonald and Eddy from such of their previous triumphs as "Naughty Marietta," Maytime" and "Girl of the Golden West," in being a modern comedy, the screen play having been adapted from the Herbert operetta by the famed comedy writers, Dorothy Parker and Alan Campbell.

W. S. Van Dyke II and Hunt Stromberg, respective director and producer of "Naughty Marietta," again joined forces on the filmization of "Sweethearts," which boasts a supporting cast of such distinguished stage and screen headliners as Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Florence Rice, Mischa Auer, Herman Bing, Reginald Gardiner, Fay Holden, Allyn Joslyn, Olin Howland, Lucile Watson, Gene and Kathleen Lockhart, Berton Churchill and little Terry Kilburn.

Billie Burke, one of filmdom's most popular comediennes, who is featured with Roland Young and Alan Mowbray in support of Constance Bennett in Hal Roach's gay comedy, "Topper Takes A Trip," which opens an engagement at the Cameron Theatre Thursday, is a great believer in the home and feels that civilization would perish if women deserted domesticity entirely.

Miss Burke loves children and claims that if she were to retire from the screen, she would like nothing better than caring for and training children—especially those belonging to women obliged to work. Meanwhile, she enjoys being known as a good trouper who still nurtures a secret

Romance vs. Rackets Basis of Screen Plot

Two young lovers are caught in the impact of the government's war against the country's most desperate gangsters in "Illegal Traffic," Paramount's dramatic expose of the "getaway and shakedown" racket, which will have its frst local showing next Saturday at the Cameron Theatre.

Playing the romantic leads in this story of the men and women responsible for a startling new crime wave are Robert Preston the young star who is being hailed as the greatest screen discovery since Clark Gable, and lovely Mary Carlisle, the blonde charmer who divides her time between comedy, drama and musical roles. Preston will be seen as the daring young G-man assigned to stamp out the country's fastest-growing racket, while Miss Carlisle plays a girl innocently mixed up with the racketeers. J. Carrol Naish, the familiar menace of a dozen crime films, is the chief of the racket and the No. 1 enemy of the young couple.

The story is built on the efforts of Preston to round up racketeers who transport fugitives-from-justice across state and national borders in exchange for a lion's share of the loot. Determined to get the lowdown on the crowd from the inside, he joins the gang as a pilot of one of the airplanes in which criminals are carried out of the reach of the law.

In a thrilling climax, the gangsters find out the truth about Preston just at the moment when he is about to trap them. Holding Miss Carlisle as a hostage, they fight it out with the G-men in one of the most unusual racket battles ever filmed, with Preston directing his fellow-officers to the fleeing racketeers from an airplane flying overhead.

Although the transportation of criminals has been the A-1 headache of the government's law-enforcement agencies for years, "Illegal Traffic marks the first time the screen has handled the explosive problem. The talented dramatic players were put through their paces by Louis King, who directed several "Bulldog Drummond" stories and the recent screen sensation, "Prison Farm." Prominent in the supporting cast are Judith Barrett, who plays a gangster's girl, Larry Crabbe, a racketeer, and Regis Toomey, a tippling aviator.

Newlywed Troubles Pace Gay Film Plot

Perhaps the happiness of every newly married couple is punctured after a few months by one complication or another, but seldom does it happen as hilariously as it does in the new romantic comedy, "Thanks For The Memory," which Paramount will present beginning Feb. 28, at the Cameron Theatre.

The narrative concerns a young couple who are doing their best to improve their status despite their fun-loving friends, who think that the newlyweds have nothing to do but throw parties. The bewildered young husband is working as a salesman, and trying to write the Great American novel on the side. When conditions remain the same, wifey puts her foot down and goes back to work, leaving the man of the house to do the housework and concentrate on his literary efforts. This state of affairs produces greater difficulties of both a hilarious and sentimental nature.

Bob Hope and Shirley Ross will be seen together as the husband and wife. This team will be recalled as the one which sang the song "Thanks for the Memory" so well in "Big Broadcast of 1938," their rendition of the number being so good that it inspired the title of this picture.

One new song, sung by Bob Hope and Shirley, is fitted into the comedy. It is entitled "Two Sleepy People," and is the work of Hoagy Carmichael and Frank Loesser, topflight composing team who did the numbers for "Sing You Sinners."

Also holding featured roles in "Thanks For The Memory" are Charles Butterworth, Otto Kruger, Hedda Hopper and Roscoe Karns. George Archainbaud directed the talented comic cast.

Bill Howell and daughter, Miss Elenor Howell, Miss Thelma Noack and Miss Eva Dale Edwards of Rockdale; Jay Howell, wife and son Jay, Jr., and Lee Howell and wife of Waco, visited with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Howell Sunday and in the afternoon visited with Bill Howell and family in Rockdale.

Lent.

This Season of the Church-Year is also known as the PASSION; and this name indicates the nature of the season. It is during this time that the Church devotes special consideration to the study of our Savior's great Sufferings or Passion. And it is this study of Christ's Passion and its momentous significance for all the world that gives this Season its special character and worth. This time of the year is otherwise no different from any other time, no better nor holier, as some seem to think. It is not wrong or sinful to do anything during Lent that is not wrong at other times; and anything that is sinful during Lent is likewise sinful at other times of the year. Also, we should not only during this Lenten or Passion Season remember our Savior's great sufferings, but at all times of the year; otherwise we would not be true Christians at all. Yet, it is wholesome and beneficial to give special time and consideration to the Lord's Passion; and that is the purpose of this special season.

His Life Story

The Dallas News

The response to our Sunday morning announcement and request for advice from the people was unprecedented.

Never before in our ten years of radio work had anything like it ever happened to us. From all parts of the state, on every kind of paper and stationery from nickel scratch pad paper to the finest bond, letters poured in. Thousands were on penny post cards. And most all of them bore many more than a single signature.

Postmaster Young and his fine, efficient helpers in the Fort Worth post office were mighty fine in handling this avalanche, which started to the first mails of the following Monday. It is true that we had never before asked our listeners to write us on so important a matter. But applause cards and communications of all sorts were nothing new to us. But it must be admitted that we never have dreamed of the enormous number of letters and cards which came in response to this request for prayerful advice.

Letters Determine Decision

Throughout the next seven days the stream continued to pour in to our home, back-breaking sacks full which the postman cheerfully carried —for which uncomplaining service I hereby offer my sincerest thanks.

If I had hesitated up until then about making the race, all doubt about the wisdom of doing same was wiped out in this flood of letters so overwhelming in their endorsement of the idea. Since the people who wrote these letters are first of all responsible for turning the politics of Texas upside down, I should like to give a full cross section of what they said and wrote. I would like to quote all of the 54,499 communications, but must be content to give you a fair sample. Here are some of them:

"We take the greatest of pleasure in dropping you a card, saying amen in regard as to your running for Governor. Yes, we believe you are the man for the place, even though we have never seen you, but we listen to your good talks and programs over the radio."—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lightsly, Mexia, Texas.

"I sure will tell you my wife and I and seventeen children are for you in your campaign, quite on your honestness. We are already campaigning for you."—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lambert, Lorenzo.

"Heard you say over the radio that people was requesting you to become Governor of the State of Texas, I do not know your politics, but it doesn't make any diffrence to me. I know you have the right spirit toward humanity. I can assure you four votes from this house. I am trusting we will soon see the day when all our high offices will be filled with God-fearing men." A. C. Housinger, Harlingen.

"We Need You."

"You have a great army of friends and supporters in this part of the country. We need and want you for our next Governor. When you get in office, success, health and happiness is our prayer for you."—C. B. Jones, Holland.

"Hope you will decide to enter the race because this grand old state of ours needs a man like you to guide its destinies through these trying times."—Will Johnson, Floresville.

"What Texas has needed for a long time is a Governor that is the kind of a man you are. My husband is a glass worker and if he can find time he will get the men at the factory and his other friends to sign the petition for you to be our next Governor."—Mrs. Earl Brooks, Witchita Falls.

"I am very happy to have this privilege of encouraging you to take this great step in life to be real Governor. I wish to God we had more men like you to help guide this great nation of ours."—Carl Oehler, Harper.

"Blind Preacher Was Right."

"I have talked to many others who feel as I do that you should be our next Governor. There are many reasons for this, Mr. O'Daniel. I have listened to your programs for years and have decided that the blind preacher was right. There never has been a home too humble or a child too ragged that you have not gone into or spoken some kind words of consolation in their hour of sorrow, grief, disaster or misfortune. You have gone into the penitentiary where unfortunate boys are spending their lives in drudgery and spoken words of kindness to them and tried to spread a little sunshine in their lives. Surely God will be just to a man like you in his efforts. It seems you leave nothing undone or unsaid in trying to help your fellow man."—Henry B. Smith, O'Donnell.

"If we can get you in the Governor's office, the poor people of the State of Texas will get some consideration, a thing they have never had before. If you were put in the Governor's office and you were to say, 'Boys, I will do so and so, and I will see that you get so and so,' boy, we would get it."—Mark W. Rector, Wichita Falls.

Quotes Bible.

"Although we will miss you on the radio and hate to see you get mixed up in politics, we need a Governor who realizes the poor man's position."—Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Peak and Girls, Katy.

"I feel there is not a man in the State of Texas I had rather have for Governor than you. I believe I am speaking for all Christians and a majority of the good people of this state. Your programs show the fruits of a good life guided by our Master, and I am sure He will help you make the right decision. I also feel in the critical times we are now living in no one should be elected that doesn't take his stand for Christ, for there is no other power than of God, Romans 13:1. I truly hope your decision will be divinely guided, and should you decide to run for Governor, that you will win by a large majority."—Mrs. Max T. Donnell, Tempie.

Encouraging Words.

Dipping at random into the stacks of letters from those who decided for me to make the race for Governor, I find it hard to pass any by. All are written in such a fine spirit and so enthusiastically that I should like to give credit here to all of their writers. Only space keeps me from doing same. But here are some more typical letters I received after thtat Sunday morning request for advice from my fellow citizens:

"I am a truck driver for a major freight concern, and, of course, out on the highway every day. As I meet and pass the school children walking down the road on the left-hand side approaching traffic, I always think of you, Mr. O'Daniel, and can't help but believe that it was you in your safety programs over the air that taught them to do this, and I believe, as a result of that many a little life has been saved. You should be our next Governor."—Ottis Tyler, Abilene.

Christian Men in Office.

"I heartily concur in the question you asked this morning, 'Was this blind preacher really blind?' Emphatically no! Because he saw and sees the light of our need for Christian leadership. I only wish Christian men with the education and experience fitting them for such undertakings would step forward at this time throughout the length and breadth of this land and offer themselves and their service as you are contemplating."—L. W. Denman, Austin.

"You made a great impression on us. You are so sweet to the shut-in people. Our 18 year old girl has never walked or talked. We are poor people on the farm. It keeps us hustling to keep her a battery radio, but your progarm drives all sorrow away for a while. We are for W. Lee O'Daniel for Governor."—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hodges, Bellvue.

"I hope that when you get in office you will do something that will help the cripples to find employment or provide for them some way. I am a cripple unable to find employment and I know what it means to depned on someone all your life. It's amazing at the number of cripples in this world. They are counted as burdens if they don't work. If you run for office, and I hope you will, I will be a quiet campaigner for you."—Louie Houston Waxahachie.

"My grandmother, Mrs. S. A. Arnold, who is eighty-seven years old and blind, asked me to write to you for her and tell you she will vote for you. She likes your programs very much says you we need more men like you."—Silas Russ, Tahoka.

To Continue Programs.

Throughout the first letters that came in there was repeated a note of regret that if we ran for Governor our programs on the air would be cut off. The Hillbilly Boys and I had a strenuous radio campaign still ahead of us before the primary. Since the nomination I have kept faith with my radio audience, and I am happy to say again here that as Governor of Texas I intend to continue to keep faith with the radio listeners.

But to return to the letters that came in last April:

"You should be a pastor of some large church. Your talking would break the heart of an iron man. No, the preacher you were talking about is not blind. He can see you would make the best Governor that could be found in the State of Texas, or even in the United States."—Mrs. Bedford Jones, Childress.

Should Seek Presidency.

"Just writing in regards to your being our next Governor. I think you are a mighty fine man. All I know about you is what I hear over the radio. I am anxious for you to run."—Mrs. Willie Donlen, Lindale.

"I am certainly going to do all I can, but you will go over bigger than our much-loved President. With you and Roosevelt we all feel safer."—Mrs. W. C. McKown, Witchita Falls.

"It would be a pleasure to vote for a man of your type for Governor of this great old State."—P. C. McDonald, Mineral Wells.

"We would love to have you as Governor, but one of my son in laws says he thinks you ought to run for President. We all think you put on the best programs on the air."—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Long, Kaufman.

Tired of Old Politicians.

"We are thrilled over the prospect of your coming out in the race for Governor and believe you will get two-thirds majority or over, as everyone thinks well of you, and we sure like your talks and programs on the radio. Here's hoping you come out."—Mrs. V. M. Martin, Kennedy.

"I have been voting for Governors for 54 years. I would like to cast my vote for you. I am sick and tired of old politicians. Just come out and pray God to help you fight your battle. He will help you just as He did David when he slew the giant. He will help you slay these old sly politicians. You can count on three votes from my home. I will be listening for your decision next Sunday morning."—J. L. Baker, Kerens.

The Baptist Training Union enjoyed a banquet on last Friday night at the church when 88 guests assembled. A program entitled "Follow the Fleet" was presented with all decorations carrying out the theme of ocean and ships at sea. Beautiful blue crepe paper, crinkled to represent ocean waves covered the tables. Fleets of tiny wooden ships rowed their way down the center of the table. Cardboard sailors with blue caps served as place cards. White narcissus and red japonica offered the floral attractions. Nut cups were sea shells from the Gulf of Mexico with little sails attached. Woodrow W. Lowe, captain of "Follow the Fleet" gave the invocation. Anchors Aweigh was beautifully rendered by a sailor quartette composed of Curtis Lowe, Velma Reese, Gordon Lowe and Kathrine Wilson, accompanied by Annette Ryan. On Deck, a reading was given by Miss Marjorie Denson. Following this presentation came in the order named, The Engine Room by Myra Lee Fanning, The Crew by Miss Eloise Moss of Baylor College, Belton, and Shore Leave by Miss Jane Hinton. George Stewart, student of Baylor University, Waco, gave "The Cruise." A sailor girl quartette composed of Zell M. Segler, Eunice Walzel, Mary Jane Lowe, and Mary Beth Price gave "Sailing, Sailing." They were accompanied by Miss Nadine Wilson at the piano. After the concluding part of the program which was "Dry Dock," a delicious dinner menu, representatives of countries fancifully visited during the evening, was served to the 88 guests.

Alpha Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi entertained its members Monday night, February 13, with a unique valentine dinner. Guests assembled in the lovely, antique dining room of the Sam Hefley home, with Pauline Starnes as hostess. Tomato cocktails, conapes, and accompanying valentine candies refreshed guests at this juncture. Red hearts giving further instructions for the evening's entertainment were distributed. The next stop was made at the home of Mrs. India Stidham. Japonica centered the dining room table and dainty valentine place cards guided the guests, who feasted on a main course consisting of baked turkey and accompaniments. These revelers then continued their course to the home of Mrs. W. C. Wiese, where red carnations beautifully carried out the valentine motif, for a lovely salad course. Guests cut for high heart, the luck holding with Frances Sharpe, to whom the hostess presented a large red heart filled with candy.
